

As may be seen from the pictures herein, it was not all fun and games. The girls had their work cut out in the kitchen, and the man under the Akubra (on the right) still had pride of place with the work sheets in hand giving instructions, while the others concentrated on the job in hand.

However, after all is said and done, a great weekend with a lot of welcome relief for the people of this drought stricken area. Another wonderful Rotary Project capably led by Rotarian Graham French. Well done, one and all.

Among the volunteers to travel to the drought stricken area was one of our latest members of the Club, Pamela, seen here on the left. What was the intesting story Pamela had to tell of the midnight frolics?

Another reminder of the tough conditions in the area

Here we see a group of the farmers from the area enjoying some typical Rotary style hospitality

A PLEASANT WEEKEND IN EURANGILLY

The rural scene as seen from the approaches to the town.
The area is extremely dry and is suffering the effects of the drought.

Several Rotarians from the Cooma Club went to the area at the weekend to bring a little relief to the drought stricken farmers. Towing a trailer with various items, our heroes spent a frugal time at the weekend as you will see in the following pages.

Much has been heard of a certain lady trying to “enter” a particular Rotarians’ bedroom around midnight. Stories are also told of the attempted theft of the goods laden trailer in the early hours of the morning.
