finished with a trumpet solo of the Last Post - or something like it!

For the opposition, Marco said Anzac Day is an ode to the fallen in all the wars, not just at Gallipoli, where Australia Day is a day of celebration of our country, that includes the migrants who played a great role in its building, but not in the wars and recognition of what people should have done.

His team supported these views, notable that said Anzac day should remain a memorial to those brave Australians, not a celebration.

Also, is both these public holidays were combined, we would lose a public holiday.

Robyn C concluded with a support-

NEWS
 Last Sunday's markets combined with the Polish Day were a great success. There were 53 stalls plus six freebies, which netted $890. Half each goes to the project and markets promotional account. The BBQ/van took $2213.43; expenses $806.50; profits $1406.95. Well done and many thanks to all who helped.

ing poem but was interrupted by a trumpeter and we have a fair idea of what she would have done with that trumpet if she could have gotten hold of it. The adjudicator awarded a win to the Three Stooges, but the club vote was 32-5 in Favour of the Amigos in their Aussie hats. Well done by all.

Salvos Hall update:
 Dave H advised that 12 volunteers turned up last Saturday and it looks like painting will start on May 3 if he can decide on colour by then.

Bega Rotary's driver/training program:

Two busloads of students from Mnaro High and SMGS at Jindabyne attending. Bega would like assistance from Cooma members on May 15/6. President Cheryl has contact details for those who can help.

Pride of work awards:

Nominations for this year's Pride of Work awards are required by April 30. See Chris A or his team for more information and application forms.

Above: Tell us the story again Moon

Editor's note: To differentiate between Steve S and the fill-in editor, there will be lots of PINK in the Bulletin until he returns!

Editor's other note: Congratulations to any members who pick up the typos - volunteers have a 5-minute window of opportunity to proof the Bulletin on a Thursday before it is sent up or off!
