NZ Exchangees hit Cooma

We were joined by the recently arrived students from Onetree College, NZ, and their Cooma hosts. John Clarke gave us a report on this program, its expectations, and the assistance from Monaro High School staff in putting it together again this year. Then Monaro High School students Ellie Walters and Lawrence Redmond along with Fran-san Amasu and Jerome Ipinie from Onetree College gave us a short address on their expectations of this program. The main speaker was Janet Jennings, Deputy Principal of One Tree College, who explained the symbolic background of "Onetree Hill" which is a local icon, with overviews of the area and the 49 volcanoes that surround the nearby city of Auckland, which she said is similar to our surrounds. In question time Rotarian Geoff Bowland then gave us a report on the volcanic past of the Monaro.

Sgt Colin with Katie and Veronique

Never wanting to let an opportunity pass by, Acting Sergeant Colin jumped at the opportunity to be surrounded by beautiful European exchange students Katie Adams and Veronique Legrand. Veronique landed in Cooma just in time to attend her first meeting on Wednesday night.

Onetree College students have their say

Special mention of the time and effort put into getting the NZ exchange going again in 2009 by PP John Clarke should be made. The logistics and extensive time needed to make these valuable programs work cannot be underestimated.
